tion. If the German government has in fact perpetrated such crime in the case of a British subject held prisoner by them, it is evident that a most serious condition of affairs has arisen.

The foreign secretary, therefore, is obliged, on behalf of the government, to request that an urgent inquiry may be made by the United States embassy in Berlin as to whether the report of the shooting of Captain Fryatt is true in order that the British government may have, without delay, full and undoubted account of the facts before them."

The order directs the district torney of Orleans county to s leave before a justice of the su court on August 23 why a new should not be granted Stielow.

Stielow was convicted of the r diction of Charles Fries, a farmer his housekeeper, Margaret We at Medina, in July 1915.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The business office of the Italian newspaper Il Progresso in this city, was wrecked tonight by a mob which demanded the release of the management of the paper. The management refused to begin a campaign to obtain freedom for Carlo Tresca, a leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, who is imprisoned on charges of conspiracy in connection with the killing of a deputy sheriff about three weeks ago.

Shortly before the mob went to work, a group of officers of the police and a contingent of a block away in which two policemen were injured. Police reserves rescued their fellow officers and towed away the damaged and commandeered automobiles and rushed them to a police station.

CAPTAIN KOENIG ASKS SPECIAL PROTECTION FOR DEUTSCHLAND

It is understood that the application for protection was made through the collector of customs at Baltimore and that Captain Koenig, the submarine commander, desired a coast guard cutter or naval vessel to accompany him down Chesapeake bay and to the three mile limit. Unless steps are taken to prevent it, the submarine probably will be followed up by a fleet of small craft carrying newspaper correspondents, photographers and sightseers. It is feared that the German and British merchant ship might go to sea in the wake of the Deutschland, advertising her presence to the allied cruisers waiting off the Virginia capes or even attempting to ram her as soon as she left American territorial waters. The United States government has held that while American neutrality must be fully safeguarded, it would be a bad precedent for the government to

Ready to Perilous Voyage

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

NEW YORK, July 29.—A stay of execution in behalf of Charles Stielow, a farm hand, was granted tonight by Supreme Court Justice Guy, three hours before the man was condemned to death for a double murder in the Stielow case heard at Sing Sing prison. It was the second time since dawn that the jurist has changed his mind. The first time Stielow, whose keepers in the death house and whose neighbors in his home town are firmly convinced he is innocent of the crime for which he was convicted.

Justice Guy directs the district attorney of Orleans county to show cause before a justice of the supreme court on August 23 why a new trial should be granted to Stielow.

Stielow was convicted of the murder of Charles Phelps, a farmer and a well known local politician, at Medina, in July 1915,

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

BALTIMORE, July 29.—The German submarine, U. S. S. Z-15, which was sighted off the coast of Virginia three weeks ago tomorrow night, with a cargo of dye stuffs, has sneaked in, her barricaded berth at Locust point tonight, all ready to start on her perilous homeward voyage.

The Z-15 is the same submarine, which met the Deutschland at the Virginia capes, and conveyed her to Baltimore, was close by with steam up.

Officials of the Eastern Forwarding company, the submarine's American agents, adhering to their policy of reticence regarding the sailing plans of the under-water liner, refused comment on the Washington dispatch, as sent out late today, concerning the probability of her sailing tomorrow or the initiation of a search, which was desired for the Deutschland in American waters. That they are concerned about the boat's safety during her run down Chesapeake Bay seemed to be the only reason for their reticence, as reliable, that it is planned to have a second tug accompany the submarine and the Timmins as far as the Chesapeake narrows against the possibility of "accidents."
